

WHAT CHANGE WILL EIGHTH CAVALRY MAKE?

Arrival of New Teams May
Upset Dope at Wednesday's Field Meet.

MANY ATHLETES TRAINING HARD

ANNOUNCEMENT by Brig. Gen. Robert L. Howe that 25 athletes of the Eighth cavalry arrived Monday from the Big Bend country to compete in tomorrow's track and field events at Fort Bliss for the Howe trophy, is causing much conjecture as to the probable effect of the rider track and field men on the outcome. Athletes from all the units in the brigade commanded by Gen. Howe, consisting of the Fifth, Seventh and Eighth cavalry, will be entered in tomorrow's meet. The Fifth and Seventh cavalry are the best of the units and will compete in part of the track, mounted and mounted events.

It is the unknown for that adds zest and interest to these athletic meets. Dopers have it that tomorrow's meet will be largely between the Fifth cavalry, 2nd field artillery and Seventh cavalry athletes. The Fifth and 2nd are remarkably evenly matched from all appearances with the Seventh in better condition than for several months.

On the face of it there is a neck and neck race between the three. But those who know the new entrants of the Eighth cavalry with individuals and teams which may cause any one of the three to win or all of them to lose. The 15th division boys have been showing up well in trials and it is not improbable that division athletes will make an exceptional showing Wednesday. In even the athletes from the Eighth cavalry also prove strong, any of the three big contenders may lose first and second, allowing the trophy to fall in unexpected places.

SWEDEN BATTLES WILL JOIN NAVY

Nelson and Johnson Will Fight Hun Subs After Gundy-Nelson Bout.

To settle a dispute as to the nationality of Tommy Nelson, El Paso featherweight, Nelson announces that he is a Swede. Sammy Johnson, Nelson's sparring partner, also claims that his ancestors, also migrated from the Florida of Sweden. Both boxes say that the old scuffling germs of their people are strong in their system and that after Labor day they will enlist in the United States navy and until the end of the war direct their hooks, jabs and swings at the Kaiser's forces.

Nelson is training for a ten round bout with Nick Gundy at the Auditorium on Labor day to prove that his recent defeat of Gundy was not "regular." If Gundy knew something more about boxing and variety of hitting there is little doubt that he would prove his point, but the time for him to effect any considerable change in his ring tactics since the last bout has been very short for which he is best adapted.

Johnson is wanting to meet Tommy Nelson, seventh cavalry. "I am sorry they didn't match me instead of Battling Chio," said Johnson Monday. "For after Labor day Tommy and I go into the navy and then I have no further chance to meet Nelson."

Great Lakes, Ill., Aug. 29.—Joe Stetcher, of Dodge, Neb., the former world's wrestling champion, who reported at the Great Lakes naval training station, yesterday, is raised on a team second class. Stetcher found trouble in getting fitted to a jockey uniform because of his size.

Athletic authorities at the station are attempting to arrange a match between Stetcher and "Strangler" Lewis, who is at Camp Grant. In their first match they wrestled for five hours without a fall.

SPORTOGRAPHY By "Gravy"

THIS Washington club has been coming along at a fast clip, but a poor start seems to have ruined their chances. The Senators can hardly overtake the Red Sox now.

Russell Ford, of spital fame, is working in a shipbuilding yard. Ford is a draughtsman and plays ball two or three times a week.

The Giant outfield at present does not compare with that of which the club started the season. With Knott gone and Horas and Young temporarily out of the lineup the team is badly weakened.

According to influential baseball men in both major leagues August 1918 will not be the chairman of the national commission after his term of office expires in January.

Herrmann is charged by some with playing possum in order to hold his position, besides which his antipathy to president Tener, who has just recently resigned from his position in the National League, has caused much ill feeling. Furthermore, there is objection to the power wielded by two men out by a neck.

DOYLE'S TROUBLESOME AGE

Larry Doyle, who like Art Wilson, had registered for the first draft because he wasn't sure about his age, got his record straightened out and found he was above the 21 limit, and about that time he read in the newspapers that the age would be raised to include all men under 45.

TOM WINTER'S DEATH

Thomas Winter, better known in the ring as Tom Spring, one of the greatest of English heavyweights, died in London on the 29th inst. He was a farmer and butcher, and in his youth followed the plough. His reputation as a fighter spread abroad, however, and he was engaged to display his prowess in a traveling boxing booth, and eventually found himself in London. Tom, then, then champion, took a fancy to the country and determined to make him his successor. After many hard battles Tom reached the goal of his ambition, defeating all the best men of his time. After his victory over Jack Langton in 1824, Tom Spring retired from the ring and in 1829 he became the host of the famous Holborn Castle, the sporting center made famous by James Belcher. There he remained until his death, in private life Spring was a quiet, gentlemanly chap, and was universally respected by the sporting fraternity, among whom he was an oracle as long as he lived.

JOHNSON-VAUGHN Are Tied For Lead

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—Walter Johnson, of the Washington club, leading pitcher of the American league, today was on equal footing in number of games won this season with Jim Vaughn, one of the leading pitchers of the National league. Both have won 21 games.

Johnson's first victory came yesterday in the 14 inning game with St. Louis and was also his eighth extra inning victory. The Washington club has played 23 overtime contests this season, being the league leaders in this respect.

SHIPPERS INSISTS THAT HE HAS INTENTION OF RETIRING

"If They Can Show Me Some Coin I am Willing to Talk Business," Says Big Jess; Reports That Mammoth Boxer Is "Hog Fat" Unfounded; Bout With Dempsey Would Draw Big Money for Army Benefit.

By T. S. ANDREWS.

THERE is absolutely no truth in the reports that I have retired or intend to retire in the very near future," said champion Jess Willard during a chat in Chicago a few days ago. "And you can add, too," said Jess, "that I have not turned my title over to Jack Dempsey, Fred Fulton or any other fighter. That title is mine and any who gets it, will have to fight me for it unless circumstances should prevent it."

Palmer Reports.

The above talk occurred in Chicago following the failure of the proposed Salvation Army benefit, which, by the way, was prevented through a lot of petty politics. The reports, however, with the exception that Jess was as big as a house and scaled around 200 pounds, are without foundation. Jess looks big and husky and probably weighs close to 275, but that is nothing out of the ordinary for him, as he usually scales around that mark when not training and when in proper shape tips the beam at about 245 to 250. The fact is Jess looked better than usual and carried very little surplus flesh about the mid section. He might have been doing some light training, judging from his fine appearance, but he stated that he had been working about the farm and oil districts, which probably accounts for it.

The question was put straight to Jess about a meeting with Jack Dempsey, with the proviso that part of the receipts be turned over to the Y. M. C. A. and K. of C. Jess said he was not even willing to take the matter up seriously.

"It is too bad about the Salvation Army benefit," said Jess, "but it did not think there would be a chance to box again until the war ended, as I understood that Dempsey had joined the service. However, as he is open to meetings, why there may be a chance of doing something. He is a good fighter from all reports, but I was not surprised at his defeat of Fulton, for I always felt that Fred would be easy for me. I had to fight for my title and the man who gets it will have to do the same thing."

Show Me Some Coin.

"If I could see the war should be stretched out I might necessitate my retiring, for I am 35 now, providing of course I do not fight in the interim, but if they can show me some coin and where I can also turn a good bunch of it over to the funds mentioned above, why I am willing to talk business. Dempsey may be a great man and all that, but he must remember that I had to forfeit everything in order to get a crack at Jack Johnson for the championship. I am not asking him to do the same as I did, but I will turn half of it over to the Y. M. C. A. and K. of C. I would like to see the affair made a big one so as to be able to turn over a good chunk of money to the funds. Dempsey will have to turn over a good share of his also. Under these conditions I may consent to take the young man on early this fall, as soon as I can get in proper shape."

Dempsey and his manager, Jack Kearns, have announced their willingness to make the match with the champion, but they want something in sight, too, for their labor. However, there is good chance of the two sides getting together and putting it through. The Cream City A. C. of Milwaukee have offered to handle the match and turn over 15 per cent of the receipts to the Y. M. C. A. and K. of C.

"The English Outlive The Americans"

Says the famous physician, Dr. Rheim, "and so in no small measure because the Americans wear rubber bridges in the mouth, while the English are less addicted to this possible danger."

Dr. Williams realized this years ago. Today the new system overcomes the "amely old style bridge."

In the new system of dentistry teeth are replaced immediately after extraction in all cases—and guaranteed.

This holds out the face to its original form—prevents muscle shrinkage—Come in and see this work for yourself—Gladly explain it to you.

The New System Plate

No Pain No Keel

Toothpicks between teeth impossible in old style plates

We are the only makers of this plate in El Paso, and have made an average of 3 daily for two years. Ask your friend, he is probably wearing one.

COST—A little thought will show you there cannot be over a dollar or so difference between real dentistry and cheap non-licensed dentists forced to work under a "company" name. You know so responsible, legally registered dentist is going to advertise under a "company" name.

One man—not a dentist—living in New York, runs eleven of these "catching and faking" offices in the State of Texas.

The laws of all other States have put this form of cheap graft out of business.
